The Janesville Daily Gazette.

VOLUME 25 | Entered at the Post Office at Janesville Wis., as second-class matter. | JANESVILLE, WISCONSIN, SATURDAY, DECEMBER 31, 1881. | Published Every Evening Except Sunday, at $7 a Year. | NUMBER 252

A HAPPY NEW YEAR.

With this issue of the Daily Gazette closes the year eighteen hundred and eighty-one. While the facts presented elsewhere is an interesting, valuable, and painstaking review of the varied industries of the city, show that all have much to be thankful for in the old year, and much to hope for in the new, the Gazette seems to have special cause for both. The success which has attended its past, the hearty support of its many friends, the field of usefulness before it and the promise of still further success, all serve to inspire the Gazette with a determination to make itself more valuable than ever in its discussion of questions of public importance and in gathering all general and local news of interest to its readers. Its efforts in the past have been honored with success, and have evidently been appreciated by the public, and the Gazette in continuing its career has the assurance of the best wishes of the community which it has so long represented. To one and all it extends the welcome greeting—"A HAPPY NEW YEAR."

In view of the fact that all connected with the Gazette are human, and desire to join in the enjoyable festivities of the season, there will be no paper issued from this office next Monday.

THE CARRIER'S ADDRESS.

The Carrier Boys of the Gazette will visit the patrons of the paper on Monday, and will deliver the annual Carrier's Address. The Address issued for 1882, is one of the best ever gotten up in this city both as a literary production and as a handsome display of typographical art. We trust the readers of the Gazette will kindly and generously remember the those who have delivered the Daily Gazette so regularly through sunshine and storms of the past year, and also hope that the Address will be received by the patrons with that good cheer which will make the day a "Happy New Year" to the Carrier Boys.

THE PROSPECT.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—Dr. J. P. Gray, superintendent of the State lunatic asylum at Utica, N. Y., for the past thirty-one years, who has had 12,000 insane patients under his care, testified to-day that Guiteau was sane and responsible on the 2d of July, and is sane and responsible to-day. He is the last of the government experts, and when he shall have said the last word on behalf of the medical men of the country, whose representative he is, respecting the mental condition of the assassin, the weight of evidence in favor of his sanity will be so great as to leave little room for doubt in any mind.

Scoville, who is disappointed because the court did not adjourn over to-day until Tuesday of next week, so that he might have two secular days in which to consult with Reed respecting the law points to be raised in the case, threatens to keep Dr Gray on the stand all day to-morrow, and perhaps to finish his cross examination next week. He will probably make as little out of Gray as he did out of Kempster. The latter was in the stand all the morning, and answered a great many questions in a way very unsatisfactory to Scoville, who propounded them.

The struggle to get into the court-room became intense this morning. Hundreds of people were turned away from the general entrance after all the general seats had been filled at 9 o'clock, and they spent the rest of the morning endeavoring to wheedle admittance to the court-room out of the guards on the other side of the building. Some, through the kindness of Marshal Henry, did get in. They appreciated after having struggled for hours in a crowd of hundreds outside, the favor, and very generally called on the Marshal after the court adjourned to return thanks,

CABINET TALK.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—A strong effort is making to boom General Williamson, of Iowa, late Commissioner of the general land office, as the successor to Kirkwood, Secretary of the Interior. General Williamson's friends say that his long experience in the general land office peculiarly fits him for the position, and that the Iowa people would accept his appointment to the Cabinet "as an amicable settlement such as they have been asking for." They claim that Chaffee has mineral lands contests in the Interior departments that would debar him, and this is probably correct; and that Sargent is not supported by the California delegation, which is in letters and figures incorrect. The California delegation, with Senator Jones, of Nevada, are working diligently for Sargent, and have been for some time.

THE MORMON QUESTION.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—It is said that President Arthur is determined that the Mormon question shall be fairly and properly settled during the period of his administration, and that the repeated announcements of the government that the laws against polygamy are to be enforced shall at least mean something.

KILLED.

MADISON, Dec. 30.—John Frenny, a farmer, aged 65 years, and deaf, was killed on the Northwestern road, eight miles north of Madison last even. He was walking on the track between Mendota and Wauneke, and was struck by the engine of a passenger train going north.

READ THIS.

At the close of a season that has been freighted with a plentitude of joy and happiness, and has spread its wings of peace over every household throughout the vast domains of our beloved country, a natural feeling of thankfulness is inspired towards those who have assisted in furthering one's individual prosperity. I, too, feel prompted to return thanks to my many patrons for the numerous favors with which they have honored me, during the past year. I trust that the mutual good feeling now existing will ripen and become greater with each ensuing season. I shall continue, as in the past, to devote my personal attention to your wants.

In conclusion, I beg to offer you the compliments of the season, "A Happy New Year."

Sincerely yours,

FRED SONNEBORN.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

A lady had a sewing machine at St. Mary's fair, selling chances on it; and not selling enough, she withdrew the machine, returned the money to some, and left $6.50 with me, to go to the church, if not called for. Those holding tickets will please call on the undersigned within twenty days, and on presentation of their ticket receive their money as far as the $6.50 goes.

BRIEFLETS.

—St. Mary's church fair netted $1,200.

—The Merry Club made merry last night.

—The Gazette wishes all "A Happy New Year."

—To-night is the big "Uncle Tom's Cabin" show at Lappin's hall.

—The postoffice on Monday next will be open from 9 o'clock till 10 a. m., and from 2 o'clock to 4 p. m.

—N. Fredericks, the well known liveryman, lost one of his valuable gray team, last night, by sudden death.

—The funeral services of the late Mrs. John Winans will take place at the residence to-morrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

—The funeral services of the late George Cook are to be held at Court Street church at 2:30 o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

—The Uncle Tom's Cabin combination will give a sacred concert at Lappin's hall to-morrow evening, beginning at 8 o'clock. Admission 25 and 35 cents.

—The members of Crystal Temple of Honor are requested to meet at the Temple hall to-morrow, at 1 p. m., to attend the funeral of their brother, George Cook.

—The carrier boys' address this year is a beauty, and readable, and those who thus carry the news through storm and shine should be given a happy new year surely.

—Prof. Fisk, of the Theological Seminary, of Chicago, will preach in the Congregational church to-morrow morning and evening. Communion after the morning service.

—At Court Street church to-morrow morning the pastor will preach a New Year's sermon. As to the evening service announcement will be made at the morning service.

—The alarm of fire this forenoon in Raymond's mill, was caused by a kerosene lamp which was thrown on the ice, near the basement by some workmen who had been engaged in repairing the gearing.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Carle received a large number of their friends, last evening in a very hospitable manner. The guests were most happily entertained in social chattings, music, and a bountiful feast of good things.

—Those wishing to have a really enjoyable time, next Monday evening, should call on the St. Patrick's T. A. & B. Society, in Apollo hall, where they will give a social dancing party. The Society always entertain pleasantly, but the coming New Year's party promises to excel in enjoyment. Anderson's band has been engaged. Step up to the hall, and make them a call.

A Lady's Wish.

"Oh, how I wish my skin was as clear and soft as yours," said a lady to her friend. "You can easily make it so," said the friend. "How?" inquired the first lady. "By using Hop Bitters, that makes pure, rich blood and blooming health. It did it for me, as you observe." Read of it.

A BIG SHOW.

C. H. Smith's Double Uncle Tom's Cabin Company To-Night.

The public can judge of the fair way Manager Smith, of the above company, does business, and fills his promises. When it became necessary to cancel Janesville, December 12, in order to play at the Academy of Music, Chicago for a week, where people were turned away nightly, he had all bills in Janesville forwarded him, paying $54 in cash. The company travel from 3:17 a. m. to 1:35 p. m., in order to fulfill their promise to play at Janesville, and will get a packed house to-night.

A Blizzard.

A "blizzard" is described by the Cheyanne Leader as follows: There is no clearly stated definition of the word "blizzard," as it is not found in the dictionaries. It is a purely Western invention. Blizzard came out since the dictionaries were built. But then a blizzard is an unspeakably mean thing. Oh! it is so mean. No one ever thinks of a blizzard without apologizing mentally for touching upon so base a subject. What the coyote is to the hunter, the freighter, the cowboy, and the miner, the blizzard is to the average citizen. The blizzard ranks about as high in meteorology as does the skunk in zoology. And then a blizzard is the only thing known to history or science that will blow thirteen ways at once. It describes a course precisely like a Scotch plaid. You turn from a direct line—to the lee way—of the fierce wind in order to catch a good square breath, and the blizzard is there too. It catches you on the point of exhalation, just as your lungs are an immense vacuum. Your mouth is open, of course, and the blizzard suddenly fills you so full of wind that nothing but a heavy conscience prevents you from soaring aloft at once like a balloon. You feel miserable and tighter'n a bass drum. You want to swear, but you haven't time. Your only relief is to strain the blizzard through your fingers.

Thread from Wood.

The manufacture of thread from wood for crochet and sewing purposes has, it is said, been started in Sweden. The manufacture has arrived at such a state of perfection that it can produce, at a much lower price, thread of as fine quality as Clark's, and has from this circumstance been called thread "a la Clark." It is wound in balls by machinery, either by hand or steam, which, with the labeling, takes one minute twelve seconds, and the balls are packed up in cardboard boxes, generally ten in a box. Plenty of orders from all parts of Sweden have come in, but as the works are not yet in proper order there has hardly been time to complete them all. The production gives fair promise of success, and it is expected to be very important for home consumption. —Scientific American.

One of Mr. Moody's Stories.

A man came into one of our meetings in the East, called me aside, and said: "I want to be a Christian, but I am a defaulter. I have taken $1,500 from my employers, and I have less than $1,000. What shall I do? Hadn't I better take what I have and go into business, and try to make enough to pay what I owe?" "No, sir," I said; "you haven't any more right to that money than if you had taken it out of my pocket. Go and return all you have, even if you leave your family penniless. The Lord will not receive you while you have stolen money in your hands." The man came night after night, but found no peace until he brought all the money he had ($980) and gave it to me to give to his employers. I took it to them. They forgave him. They helped him, and he soon found peace in Jesus."

The Garden of China.

Around Shanghai lie 50,000 square miles which are called the Garden of China, and which have been tilled for countless generations. This area is as large as New York and Pennsylvania combined; it is all meadow land, raised a few feet above the river—lakes, rivers, canal, a complete network of water communication; the land is under the highest cultivation; three crops a year are gathered; population so dense that wherever you look you see men and women in blue pants and blouse, so numerous that you fancy some muster or fair coming on, and all hands turned out for a holiday. No one can deny that the Chinese are an industrious people.

Profits of Texas Cattle.

The cost of keeping cattle in Texas is estimated by the Fort Worth Live Stock Journal at about $1.50 a head, or $1,500 a 1,000. Four men, with 12 to 16 horses, will tend a herd of 1,500. The profits are as follows: Beeves, per head, cost, $15; running expenses, $1.50; sell at $22, with a profit of 32 per cent. Profit on cows costing $13.50 per head; cost of keeping, $1.50, making $15. Increase of calves, 75 per cent., worth $5 per head. Net profit 23 per cent.

Cremation.

Cremation again is a subject of general mention, but its failure to become popular is shown by the fact that only eight bodies have been burned in the two or three years that have elapsed since the only American crematory was built. Though many believe in the resurrection of the body, few desire that their remains shall be wafted heavenward from the chimney of a furnace

The Bumptious Boy.

It seems to be pretty well agreed upon by domestic critics that the boy as a household institution is not an object of unalloyed delight, although he is to be endured as a necessary evil. Of course that applies to everybody's boy but our boy. Our boy is not the ordinary boy at all, but a hero born, an incipient demi-god, the young St. George himself—although the neighbors may declare him to be St. George and the Dragon too, since nothing in his path is left alive.

It is in boy-nature inevitably to be active, leaping, laughing, living; the growing bones and muscles will have full play, the healthy lungs full cry. A boy that is any sort of a boy must be gay and noisy, and must make an atmosphere of commotion about himself and his boots, his dogs, his toys, his guns, or his want of all those and like things. If he sat still and talked under his breath, we should know something was the matter with him, and expect but poorly for his future; and so, if our nerves are in tolerable health, and nobody is really ill in the house, we welcome all his racket and stir, and would not have one sound, one echo, the less of his calling, and jumping, and running, and whistling, and bouncing, and slamming, and if other folks object to him, we congratulate ourselves that his affairs are none of other folks' business, and look forward to the time when they will regret their inability to perceive the greatness of the man that was folded in the boy to await its timely development.

But this is merely the common boy of North America, as Aunt Jane in "Malbone" would say—that is, only our boy and your boy. There is something about this one differing from the normal and generic boy. He is not the evil-disposed boy, the bad boy, or, worse than any of the others for daily use and comfort, he is not the bumptious boy. For of all things in a family, short of shrews and scolds and busybodies, the bumptious boy is the most intolerable.

The bumptious boy is always several years older than the family Bible registers him, and he impresses the circumstance upon you every day by means of his sublime effrontery. While you consider him the veriest youth, he considers himself already a man, and as far as he can acts up to the assumption. His tongue is in every dialogue; his opinion is proffered on every point; his advice is forced upon you, whether the affair be momentous or trifling. He receives your guests for you before you can do it yourself; he takes the burden of their entertainment; he criticises the cookery with the air of Dr. Kitchener; he is gallant to the housemaids, who humor him because it is so laughable; he affects airs of society, makes calls on amused ladies, has engraved cards if he can get them, makes a fuss about his linen; his correspondence becomes voluminous, and he is overrun with occupations and engagements. He apologizes for appearing to neglect you; he offers to do you services with his superior facilities; he pretends to the confidence of people that he knows you respect; he comments on their peculiarities too; he opens the morning paper and peruses it, whether his elders wait for it or not, and knows all there is to know on politics, being sure not to espouse his father's side, lest he be thought to take the "old man's" opinions ready-made. He tosses off a glass of wine at table, when he knows no one will like to dispute it, and calls for another, to let you see what a man he is, and what a head he has; he swaggers into a gentleman's room and helps himself to cigars; into a lady's boudoir and busies himself with her work-basket, while affecting a knowledge of the world that would make her laugh in her sleeve if it were not exceedingly offensive. He hints darkly; he assumes to have had affairs and experiences; if it were not unmanly to boast, he would tell you of many women that are in love with him—with him, just out of his pinafores! He practices for future love-making with his aunts and girl cousins, and kisses them in a manner that makes their fingers tingle to box his ears a dozen times over, if it were not for their Christian kindness in hesitating to amaze him, and hurt his surprised feelings by repulsing his affections.

In short, he is an urchin just in his teens, with an overweening and colossal conceit of himself, who is a scourge and a nuisance, but who amuses everybody so much that he hardly kindles lasting indignation, while the family hope concerning him is that he may one day have sense enough to see what a fool he has been.

You feel, nevertheless—if not so closely bound to him as to feel nothing of the sort—that the acquaintance of this bumptious boy is detrimental to every other boy with whom he comes in contact, and for the sake of the human race in general, and of affording it as little injury as possible, rather than let loose upon it this hurtful species, you endure his well-meant insolence, and the liberties he takes, yourself, and long for the years to come that shall put an end to his forth-putting airs and graces, and make him a man, perhaps not any the more disagreeable for having at the early stage graduated in his bumptiousness, and cast it off with the things that are behind.—Harper's Bazar.

—The works for utilizing some of the enormous water-power of Niagara River are now in progress under the auspices of the new company formed not long since. In 1850 a canal three-quarters of a mile long, thirty-five feet wide and ten feet deep, with a fall of two feet, was constructed. The canal leaves the river above the falls and empties into a reservoir below. Four wheels were in operation formerly. The new company has nearly completed a wheel-pit near the reservoir forty-feet long by twenty feet wide, and sunk in the solid rock eighty-six feet. In this pit will be placed three large wheels, to which the water will be led by huge iron pipes. This will give an available head of 134 feet, and the possibilities of power seem inexhaustible.

—They have an airy way of doing things at Leadville. When Dr. McCosh was there recently he wished to go down a mine, whereupon a gentleman in workman's dress grasped his hand, told him he had once been a Princeton student, and led the way down his own mine; and before the Doctor departed his new friend volunteered to create a fellowship at Princeton.

—Frequent scrubbing with soap and water will invariably destroy the freshness and brilliancy of paint. Whiting will remove spots and clean paint much better than soap and with no injury to the most delicate colors. Make a paste of whiting and hot water, rub it on well with a flannel cloth and rinse off with tepid water and a clean flannel.

—Among the effigies burned in connection with the Guy Fawkes celebration in England was one of Guiteau.

RELIGIOUS AND EDUCATIONAL.

—A pretty and useful custom in some of the public schools is to have a class exercise their skill at composition on letters to one of their sick and absent classmates.

—The Presbyterian Synod, which was recently in session at Hastings, Minn., pledged $30,000 to Macalester College in Albert Lea, and $15,000 to establish Albert Lea Female College.

—The Elmira (N. Y.) Board of Education is considering a proposition to establish school saving-banks in connection with each of the district schools of the city. In England the National Thrift Society is raising a special fund to forward a similar project.

—The former members of the Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church, all but one synod of which is now incorporated with the United Presbyterian Church, are arranging to celebrate the centennial of the old organization next year.

—The Episcopal Church is taking increasing interest in the Church Building Fund Commission, by which in the next three years it is hoped to raise a million. By request of the Bishop, offerings for the purpose are soon to be made in several dioceses.

—The Southern Baptist Home Mission Board has engaged to feed, clothe, doctor and educate fifty boys and fifty girls at the Levering Manual Labor School, Indian Territory, and the Creek Nation has engaged to help the board with $7,000 a year.

—A writer in one of our exchanges denounces the gift of the late Matthew Vassar of $80,000 to found two chairs in Vassar which are never to be occupied by women as "an $80,000 sneer," and calls upon the women of the country to contribute $80,000, to enable Vassar to reject the gift with proper womanly scorn.

—The Indians of the Dakota Mission of the American Board recently held their annual meeting. A class of three dozen native pastors and teachers was organized for Bible study, and spent six hours a day for three days in studying the International Sunday-school lessons. A Sunday-school convention could not have more diligently applied itself to the Scriptures.

—Rev. R. M. Loughbridge, a Presbyterian evangelist, has just made a trip of two hundred miles among the Indians, attending camp-meetings with the Seminoles at Broad Arrow, with the Creeks at North Fork, and with the Seminoles again at Wessokee. Several persons were added to the church and baptized, and three Creek Indians were licensed to preach.

Told by a Drummer.

Commercial travelers, half a dozen of them, were exchanging experiences on the road in a hotel corridor yesterday, when Mr. Andrew Monroe told a story which fairly eclipsed all the other tales. Mr. Monroe is just back from Arkansas, and in the course of his journeyings found himself under the necessity of walking from one town to another in Polk County. He had arranged for a wagon, but his driver failed him at the last moment, and he set out on foot, being anxious to make the destination. "Night came on," said Mr. Monroe, as he told the story, "a heavy rain came up; the rain fell in torrents. The road, which had been described as perfectly plain, narrowed into a path. The moaning of the wind and the rain falling on the leaves made me feel uncomfortable. I reached a log cabin near the bank of a small stream. The sight of a human habitation thrilled me. I entered, but found no one. A dull, smouldering fire burned in a large fireplace. Seating myself on a slab-bench I waited. Presently an old man entered. He was old, but of powerful mold. His shoulders were broad, and his arms, from which his shirt-sleeves were rolled, were pictures of sinewy perfection. He merely nodded. When I asked him a question as to whether or not I could remain in his house during the night, he again nodded and left the room. The rain increased. The 'old cabin home,' was not alluring in its comforts, but anything was better than the woods, darkness, intense and impenetrable. The old man came in again, with a lamp and an ax. Turning, he locked one door, and placing his lamp on the shelf, he locked the other door. Then, with a fearful howl, he sprang upon me, and with a rope which he had concealed about him, bound me. He stood me up like a ten-pin, and taking up his ax, said:

"'You ran away with my wife and I am going to kill you!'

"I begged piteously. He raved.

"'What have you done with her?' he demanded.

"I told him that I was his friend and that I knew nothing of his wife, but he raved again and raised his ax. 'Hold on,' I cried, 'if you wait until to-morrow I will get your wife for you.' He dropped his ax and eased me to the floor. I slept in painful dozes. The old man lay near me muttering. When morning came, the old man unbound and pointed to the woods. I did not wait for a second sign. After a painful search I found the road. Meeting a man, I related my experience, and was informed that the old man was crazy, and that he imagined some one had stolen his wife, but that the poor woman was sleeping her eternal sleep under the broad hearthstone of the cabin."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Boston "Culchaw."

When the Culture girls of Boston came home not long ago in a vessel of the "Kunard" Line, they were very talkative, inquisitive and curious, and pestered the Captain almost to death. One day the eldest Culture sought the engineer and questioned him: "How many revolutions, Mr. Engineer," she began, "does the propeller achieve within the period of a minute?" "Oh," said he, "about a thousand." "Indeed," exclaimed Miss Sarah Annex Emerson Culture, "why, you fill me with astonishment!" "I thought I would," said the engineer. "Well now, tell me," she persisted, "what is the capacity—she legitimate, bona fide ability—of the boilers as compared dispassionately and shorn of prejudice with those which our American river and lake steamers are ordinarily provided?" "I give it up, Miss," he said. "What!" said the elder Culture girl, "is it possible you cannot tell what the boilers can do?" "Yes, I can," he angrily answered, while he walked away, "they can bust and blow us all to perdition!" That same night Miss Sarah Annex Emerson Culture wrote in her diary the following. "* * * Find the subordinate officials of the steamer averse to imparting truthful information associated with the mechanical department, which aversion is unquestionably due to ignorance."—*N. Y. The Cultivation of Good Language in the Home.

The cultivation of language in the home circle, and its proper use, are very essential. The influence of the home is greater than any other. There the earliest lessons are taught; there the earliest impressions are made upon the hearts and minds of little ones. Children are such imitative creatures! Parents cannot be too careful of the examples and influences which surround them. As soon as a child commences to lisp its first broken sentences its education begins. Habits are formed which will exist to a greater or less degree throughout life. Such being the case, the conversation of the older members of the family should be carefully guarded, lest the little ones hear and learn ungrammatical expressions and slang, which, sad to say, is so rife among our young people of the present day. The servants, with whom children spend much of their time, should be chosen with reference to this matter. A mother should feel it her duty to point out any grammatical mistakes made by them, and insist upon their language being correct, respectful, and devoid of slang at all times. It is exceedingly difficult to break children of habits once formed, and care in this direction will save much trouble and annoyance. The other day a mother was complaining that her little boy would use profane language. This was a source of great distress to her, and she lamented to her acquaintances that she did not know how it happened, but her friends found it not so difficult to explain, since the boy's father habitually swore when angry or excited.

One way to cultivate the use of language, and at the same time to learn of the occupations and companions of her children, is for the mother to encourage the daily narration of what they have seen, heard and enjoyed, and the telling of their little experiences. The study of pictures, moreover, in which every child delights, may be used as a great provocation of language. Children always love to look at pictures and can almost always be induced to talk about them. This study teaches them observation and how to accurately describe whatever they see.

When stories are read to children they should be obliged to reproduce them, using, as far as possible, the language of the book. The memory is strengthened in this way, a habit of attention formed, and the power of expression increased. If such plans as these are systematically carried out, they will prove a wonderful help in the thorough education of a child. The constant, careful teaching and kind suggestions of parents will accomplish a work which can never be performed by study, and in after years such early home training will show itself in a ready command of language and an easy, graceful power of conversation.—Exchange.

Care of the Buggy.

We lay it down as an axiom that the farmer who cannot afford a cover for his implements and vehicles has no business with a buggy.

A buggy is too frail and delicate to stand heat and storms. The buggy must be kept housed when not in use. When brought out of the house it should be dusted off with a feather duster. If it comes home muddy it should be cleaned before putting in the house. It may be inconvenient, but in the end it will pay. There is no need of taking it to a creek, and there attack it with the old scrub broom. Take a bucket or two of water and a sponge and gently wash the top, then the bed, and wring out a chamois and wipe so no water stands on the varnish. Wherever water dries on varnish it will lose its luster. A bucket, and a sponge, and chamois and feather duster are as necessary adjuncts to a farmer's buggy as a wrench.

A careful man will have his buggy look neat, and last three times as long as the class first named. The average farmer can ill afford to buy a buggy and harness for pleasure. And neither he nor any other farmer can afford to neglect and destroy them.

Wastefulness treads on the heels of extravagance, and the model farmer will not tolerate either on his premises.—Exchange.

—To Determine the Quality of Silk.—Take ten fibers of the filling in any silk, and if on breaking they show a feathery, dry and lack-luster condition, discoloring the fingers in handling, you may at once be sure of the presence of dye and artificial weighting. Or take a small portion of the fibers between the thumb and forefinger, and very gently roll them over and over, and you will soon detect the gum, mineral, soap and other ingredients of the one, and the absence of them in the other. A simple but effective test of purity is to burn a small quantity of the fibers; pure silk will instantly crisp, leaving only a pure charcoal; heavily-dyed silk will smolder, leaving a yellow, greasy ash. If, on the contrary, you cannot break the ten strands, and they are of a natural luster and brilliancy and fail to discolor the fingers at the point of contact, you may well be assured that you have a pure silk that is honest in its make and durable in its wear.

AS THOUSANDS DO TESTIFY.

So does Thomas Robests, Wholesale Grocer, Philadelphia, who says: "BURNETT'S COCOAINE allays all irritation of the scalp, and will most effectually remove dandruff and prevent the hair from falling out."

BURNETT'S FLAVORING EXTRACTS.—The superiority of these extracts consists in their perfect purity and great strength. They are warranted free from the poisonous oils and acids which enter into the composition of many factitious fruit flavors.

Economy.

A fortune may be spent in using ineffectual medicines, when by applying THOMAS' ECLECTRIC OIL a speedy and economical cure can be effected. In cases of rheumatism, lame back, bodily ailments, or pains of every description, it affords instant relief.

Blood Poisonings, Scrofulous Ulcers and Itching Humors, Abscesses and Glandular Swellings.

LEAD POISONING.

Mr. Albert Kingsbury, Keene, N. H., troubled with bad humor on hands and neck, caused by lead poisoning. (He's a painter.) At times it would break out, crack open, and the skin separate from the flesh in large pieces, suffering great continual itching and stinging. Purchased your remedies; used CUTICURA RESOLVENT internally, and CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP externally, and in less than three months effected a complete cure, and has not been troubled since. Corroborated by Bullard & Foster, Druggists, Keene, N. H.

GREATEST ON EARTH.

J. W. Adams, Newark, Ohio, says: "CUTICURA REMEDIES are the greatest medicines on earth. Had the worst case salt rheum in this county. My mother had it twenty years, and in fact died from it. I believe CUTICURA would have saved her life. My arms, breast and head, were covered for three years, which nothing relieved or cured until I used the CUTICURA RESOLVENT internally, and CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP externally."

PSORIASIS.

H. E. Carpenter, Esq., Henderson, N. Y., cured of Psoriasis or Leprosy, of twenty years' standing, by the CUTICURA RESOLVENT internally, and CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP externally. The most wonderful case on record. Cure certified to before a justice of the peace and prominent citizens. All afflicted with itching and scaly diseases should send to us for this testimonial in full.

SALT RHEUM.

Those who have experienced the torments of Salt Rheum can appreciate the agony I endured for years, until cured by the CUTICURA RESOLVENT internally and CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP externally.

To Contractors.

Notice is hereby given that sealed proposals will be received by the Building Commissioners of Dane county, until 12 o'clock noon, of January 5th, 1882, for furnishing all the labor and material necessary for a building for the chronic insane, to be erected on the Dane County Poor Farm, and erecting and completing the same, including all furnaces, pipes, ventilators and all other things mentioned in the specifications or shown on the plans, said building to be completed and ready for occupancy on or before the first day of September, 1882, according to the plans and specifications adopted by the commissioners, which can be seen at the office of John Nader, architect, at the city hall, in Madison, Wis.

Bids will also be received by the commissioners for the construction of said building upon the adopted plans and specifications as modified in the heating and ventilation by the accompanying plans and specifications drawn by the "Rattan Heating & Ventilating Co." to adopt the same to the use of their furnaces, said bids not to include furnace, registers, valves or connecting pipes.

Bids will also be received separately on the following classes of work:

1. Mason work, including the necessary excavations; 2. Carpenter work; 3. Plastering; 4. Tinner's work; 5. Plumber's work; 6. Iron work; 7. Hardware; 8. Painting and glazing; 9. Heating apparatus, including furnaces, pipes, valves, registers and dampers, guaranteed to heat the building to 70 degrees in the coldest weather. The bid in each case to include all the labor and material necessary in that department, according to the specifications.

Parties to whom the contract or contracts may be awarded, will be required to give bonds with sufficient sureties, to be approved by the commissioners for the faithful performance of their contract.

Proposals can be sent to Wm. Charlton, Madison, Wis.

Payments will be made in cash, at such times and in such sums, as may be agreed upon between the commissioners and contractor.

The commissioners reserve the right to reject any or all bids, that they may consider not for the best interest of the county, without incurring any liabilities whatever.

HAS

Visited Janesville

EIGHTEEN YEARS

Has met with unparalleled success in the treatment of all

CHRONIC DISEASES !

OF THE

Throat, Lungs, Heart Stomach, Liver.

Head, nerves, kidneys, bladder, womb, and blood affections of the urinary organs, gravel scrofula, rheumatism, catarrh, asthma, bronchitis, dyspepsia, &c.

DR. PRICE'S REPUTATION!

Has been acquired by candid, honest dealing and years of successful practice.

My practice, not one of experiment, but founded on the laws of Nature, with years of experience and evidence to sustain it, does not tear down, make sick to make well; no harsh treatment, no trifling, no flattering. We know the cause and the remedy needed; no guess work, but knowledge gained by years of experience in the treatment of Chronic Diseases exclusively; no encouragement without a prospect. Candid in our opinions, reasonable in our charges, claim not to know everything or cure everybody, but do lay claim to reason and common sense. We invite the sick, no matter what their ailment, to call and investigate before they abandon hope, make interrogations and decide for yourselves; it will cost nothing as consultation is free. Visits made regularly.

BITS OF INFORMATION.

THE first census of the United States was taken in 1790. The population was 3,929,328.

MEZZO-TINTO engraving was invented by the celebrated soldier and Admiral, Prince Rupert, in 1650.

CHAUCER was a courtier and diplomatist as well as a poet. He was sent to France and Italy in the capacity of his King's representative.

THE Egyptian obelisk, now in New York city, was originally set up in Heliopolis. Herodotus speaks of two obelisks (one of which is the New York one) at Alexandria, and Rawlinson fixes the date of their removal from Heliopolis at 1463 B. C. According to that, their age is 3,043 years. The companion obelisk is in London, England.

WHAT is known as cut glass is glass with incisions and ornaments with smooth surfaces, appearing as if cut by a sharp instrument. The cutting of the glass consists entirely in grinding away successive portions by holding them upon the surface of wheels of stone, metal, and wood, which are made to revolve rapidly. The first or rough cutting is sometimes given by wheels of stone, resembling grindstones. Afterward wheels of iron are used, having their edges covered with sharp sand or with emery. To prevent heat by friction small streams of water are applied. The last polish is given by brush.

THE size of some of the largest churches in Europe is shown by their seating capacities, as follows: St. Peter's Church at Rome will hold 54,000 persons; Milan Cathedral, 7,000; St. Paul's, at Rome, 32,000; St. Paul's, at London, 35,000; St. Petronio, at Bologna, 24,000; Florence Cathedral, 24,300; Antwerp Cathedral, 24,000; St. Sophia's, Constantinople, 23,000; St. John Lateran, 22,900; Notre Dame, at Paris, 20,000; Pisa Cathedral, 13,000; St. Stephen's, at Vienna, 12,400; St. Dominic's, at Bologna, 12,000; St. Peter's, at Bologna, 11,500; Cathedral of Vienna, 11,000; St. Mark's, Venice, 7,000. Spurgeon's Tabernacle, 7,000. Very few American churches have a seating capacity of over 1,500.

IN case of a gentleman wishing to marry, literally in the market with his heart, he wears a plain or chased gold ring upon the forefinger of the left (or heart) hand. When success attends his suit and he is actually engaged, the ring passes to the third finger. If, however, the gentleman desires to tell the fair ones that he not only is not "in the market," but he does not design to marry at all, he wears the signet upon his little finger, and all ladies may understand that he is out of their reach. With the fair sex the "laws of the ring" are: A plain or chased ring on little finger of the right hand indicates "not engaged," or, in plain words, "ready for proposals, sealed or otherwise." When engaged the ring passes to the first finger of the left hand. When married the third finger receives it. If the fair one proposes to lay all siege to her heart she places rings on her first and fourth fingers—one on each—like two charms, to keep away the tempter. It is somewhat singular that this disposition of rings is rare.

Jonah in the Whale's Belly.

Two hundred years ago Dr. Zachary Boyd wrote the following quaint description of Jonah in the whale's belly. He was a minister of the barony parish of Glasgow, and Rector of its University:

What house is this, where's neither coal nor candle,
Where nothing but guts of fishes handle?
I and my tables are both within,
Where day never dawned, where sun did never shine,
The like of this on earth man never saw,
A living man within a monster's maw,
Buried under mountains while I am high and deep,
Plunged under waters hundreds fathoms deep.
Not so with Noah, from his house of tree,
For through a window he a light did see;
He sailed above the highest waves—a wonder;
I and my boat are all the waters under;
He, in his ark, might goe, and also swim,
But I sit still in such a straitened room
As is most uncouthe, head and feet together,
Among such grease as a thousand of mother.
I find no way now for my shrinking hence,
But here I lye, and die for mine offense.
Eight prisoners were in Noah's huik together;
Comfortable they were, each one to the other,
In all the earth like unto me is none;
Far from all living, I here lye alone.

An Episcopalian Horse.

The Rev. Dr. Broadus, an old Baptist parson famous in Virginia, once visited a plantation where the darky who met him at the gate asked him which barn he would have his horse put in.

"Have you two barns?" asked the doctor.

"Yes, sah," replied the darky; "dar's de ole barn, and Mas'r Wales has jes build a new one."

"Where do you usually put the horses of clergymen who come to see your master?"

"Well, sah, if dey's Methodis's or Baptis's, we gen'ally put 'em in de ole barn, but if dey's 'Piscopals we puts 'em in de new one."

"Well, Bob, you can put my horse in the new barn; I'm a Baptist, but my horse is an Episcopalian."

Alderman Tucker, Boston, says you may state that I have paid for medicine and treatment in 20 years $2,000, without receiving permanent benefit. Entirely cured of his disease (salt rheum) by Cuticura Remedies.

H. E. Carpenter, Esq., Henderson, N Y., cured of Psoriasis or Leprosy, of twenty years' standing, by the Cuticura Resolvent internally, and Cuticura and Cuticura Soap externally. The most wonderful case on record.

Cause and Effect.

The main cause of nervousness is indigestion, and that is caused by weakness of the stomach. No one can have sound nerves and good health without using Hop Bitters to strengthen the stomach, purify the blood and keep the liver and kidneys active, to carry off all the poisonous and waste matter of the system. See other column.

The Misery of Riches.

From the Cincinnati Gazette.

The amassing of riches for others to enjoy is, we believe, included among the "vanities" chronicled by the author of "Ecclesiastes." It is just now having a striking exemplification in Boston. The late Charles O. Rogers, principal owner of the Boston Journal, made a great deal of money, but did not live long to enjoy it, dying when a little over 50. He left his widow $400,000 outright, $200,000 to each or his three children, and about $200,000 more to trustees to administer for the benefit of the heirs generally. The trust has been well fulfilled, and the Journal, in which most of the fortune lies, has paid very handsomely. The widow unfortunately, however, fell in love and married John Cumming, an Englishman her son's tutor, and a man much younger than herself. The nuptials took place about a year after her first husband's death, and naturally occasioned a great deal of comment. She is now repenting of her haste, and is seeking a divorce on the ground of Cumming's alleged misconduct in Europe. It is a sad story, and a proof that riches may bring anything but happiness.

Earnings by London Bootblacks.

(From the London Daily Telegraph.)

Thirty changeful years—"some have crept by and some have flown"—are now counted in the modestly useful career of the Shoe-black Brigade. In the year of peaceful triumph and of aspiration honorable to the concordant faith of humanity—in that never to-be-forgotten year, 1851—a few philanthropists, noble in a sense beyond that of the British peerage, set the red-coated society going, and it has gone remarkably well ever since.

Those were the days of "ragged schools," to which the young shoeblacks were affiliated. Gradually, however, the distinctive term "ragged" was dropped, as being not only invidious, but practically inapplicable. Some cherry statistics have just been published, showing that in busy young polishers who at first enlisted to meet a special emergency, when London's proverbial mud was churned by the myriad boots of country cousins and fraternal foreigners, continue to flourish firmly in the trade that was deemed no more than a transitory stopgap. One band alone, that of Saffron Hill, numbering 66 red-jackets, has earned in the last 12 months between three and four thousand pounds. The total sum placed to the credit of this single society's exertions, in the thirty years of its industrious life, has exceeded £36,000; and as there are eight other similar societies in London, not all quite so prosperous as the one just particularized, but still holding their own, it is not suprising to learn that an amount falling little short of a quarter of a million sterling has been turned over in those boxes on which pedestrians of every grade plant their feet, in almost mechanical obedience to the chirping cry, "Shine your boots, sir?"

RESCUED FROM DEATH.

The following statement of William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., is so remarkable that we beg to ask for it the attention of our readers. He says: "In the fall of 1876, I was taken with a violent BLEEDING OF THE LUNGS, followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the City Hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half dollar. I expended over a hundred dollars in doctors and medicines. I was so far gone at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS. I laughed at my friends, thinking that medicine was incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when, to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have the past three years.

"I write this hoping you will publish it, so that every one afflicted with Diseased Lungs will be induced take DR WM. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS, and be convinced that CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED. I have taken two bottles, and can positively say that it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness. My cough has almost entirely disappeared, and I shall soon be able to go to work." Sold by druggists. 1

A Lover's Revenge.

When James Lick was a young man he fell in love with a miller's daughter in Pennsylvania. Young Lick faced the stern old miller and asked for the hand of his daughter. "Now, Jame, was a poor young man, but honest and industrious, and withal full of pride. The man refused to grant James' request, and advised him not to marry until he had a competency to support a wife. These remarks were rather humiliating to young Lick's pride, and pith emphasis he replied: "Sir, I shall see the day when your boasted mill would not make a respectable wheat win for one I shall own." Years passed and James Lick erected in Santa Clara county, Cal., a mill, the wood-work of which is solid mahogany. Shortly after its erection he had photographs taken of the inside and outside of his mill, and sent them to the miller who had refused him the hand of his daughter.

A LAWYER and a preacher were discussing the direction of the wind. The former said, "We go by the court house vane." "And we go by the church vane," replied the parson. "In the matter of wind that is the best authority," said the lawyer. And the preacher went home to cogitate.

THERE IS MORE STRENGTH restoring power in a 50 cent bottle of Parker's Ginger Tonic than in a bushel of malt or a gallon of milk. As an appetizer, blood purifier and kidney corrector, there is nothing like it, and invalids find it a wonderful invigorant for mind and body. See other column.

REVIEW DAY!

Column after Column of Facts and Figures Trooping up from the Past.

A Happy Old Year, in Which Money, Mind and Muscle Have Worked Well.

A Glance at Some of the Industries and Events of the Past Twelve Months.

The Success of the Past Gives Greater Hope for the Future,

Janesville Proves Itself a Right Bower City, and Leads Out Boldly.

Many Ups, Few Downs.

Twelve months have slipped away from us, one by one, since there rang out merrily the cheery words, "A Happy New Year." The new has become old, and is nearing its end. There is no occasion to mourn its coming or its going, for it has proved a good old year, and in its good-by it gives the promise of an even better and brighter successor. Its twelve great boxes of baggage, with their three hundred and sixty-five bundles of troubles and joys, fortunes and successes, are all packed, and at midnight, 1881 will step on to Conductor Time's train as 1882 steps off. The year now old has brought many private pains and pleasures, which are shrouded in the sanctity of home life and personal thinking; but the public life of the old year is common property, and it is no less belitting than profitable and pleasant to look at some of the facts and figures in its many chapters of toil and reward.

The showing for the year so far as the Bower City is concerned, is one which gives fresh cause for thanksgiving for the past and courage for the future. The city has prospered and grown, and its various industries show an activity which not only merits success, but has won success.

AMONG THE MERCHANTS.

Those who are engaged in mercantile business come in personal contact with so many of our citizens, day by day, in their dealings with the people as individuals, that the Gazette readers are familiar with their doings. It has been a year of increase. Thrift and enterprise have not gone unrewarded. There has been more or less time during the year when storms and floods have almost blockaded the city, and caused comparative dullness to prevail, but these darker shadings only bring out the larger and brighter side. Trade in all lines has been excellent, and the merchants have felt warranted in carrying larger and better stocks than ever before. The business portion of Janesville presents an appearance which attracts the stranger, and excites pride in the resident. The displays of goods are as rich and varied as can be found in any city of twice its size. Prices are kept down and quality kept up, and the mercantile business is therefore continually enlarging the territory from which it draws its trade. There have been no failures among our merchants, and all seem to be prospering.

THE MANUFACTORIES.

The wheels and shafts and spindles merit special attention in looking over the work of the year. Most of the readers are less familiar with their doings than with those of the merchants, as they visit them less frequently. They merit special attention, too, because of their importance. Upon their success and growth depends much of the success of the city. Janesville nestles down in the heart of a great agricultural district; but if it depends upon this for its growth, it cannot push beyond a certain limit. With manufacturing there is no limit of territory. As will be seen by looking at the facts given, goods manufactured here go to every state of the union, and even crowd their way into the European marketplaces. During the year fresh interest has been awakened in manufacturing. The success which some have met with, or rather earned, by careful management, and by pluckily hanging to a firm purpose, has encouraged others, and some of the capital now lying idle begins to move toward increased manufacture. Let it move on. Mercantile business may be overdone here. Manufacturing business cannot. Let the new year bring a careful fostering of the old enterprises and an enthusiastic starting of many new ones, and it will prove indeed a happy new year for Janesville.

COTTON FACTORY

is one of the largest and most successful manufacturing enterprises in the whole west, and Janesville folk cannot speak of it or think of it without a tinge of justifiable pride, and a wish that there were other like factories established here. The past year has been mainly a repetition of the success of the previous years. The high water, and the low water, have interfered somewhat with the production, but still the factory has made about 5,000,000 yards, and so quickly has the market seized upon the goods, that since the 15th of last January until now, not a single bale has remained in the factory over night, except occasionally one or two which were awaiting shipment in the morning. About $5,000 has been added to the machinery, and some building improvements made, but aside from those there has been no material change to record. Aside from the gratification which the success of this enterprise affords the stockholders, it is a matter of no small concern to the city at large, as many are given employment, and fully $75,000 is annually distributed among employes, most of which is necessarily spent over the counters of our own merchants. It is to be hoped that another year's record may include the fact that one more cotton factory is

THE HARRIS MANUFACTURING COMPANY

is one of the best known enterprises in the city, and its goods yearly find their way in increasing numbers into the various parts of this State, Michigan, Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, and Nebraska. Owing to contemplated changes in business the works have not been pushed this year, but still the showing is a large one. There have been manufactured the past year 625 reapers, 200 mowers, 200 mowing attachments, 600 seeders, 200 drills, 500 harrows, making in all a total production of $170,000 worth of farm machinery. The job work done is another item, amounting to at least $7,500. There have been kept employed 100 hands, and there has been paid out for labor the sum of $48,178. As is generally known, today the Harris Manufacturing Company ceases, and the business passes into the hands of the new organization known as the Janesville Machine company, which will begin active operations next Tuesday morning. It is the purpose of the new company to make this one of the largest and most profitable manufactories in the west. As soon as possible there will be an increase in the help and machinery, and in the variety of articles manufactured, as well as in the total production. The new company is to make a new reaper and mower, the name for which they have not decided upon. Horse hay rakes, seeders, drills, and harrows will be made, as well as such other machines, as may from time to time seem advisable. The factory is to be made to hum with industry.

THE M'LEAN WOOLEN MILL

had its business sadly interfered with this season by a disastrous fire which swept it away on the morning of the 9th of August last. Despite the loss, which was heavy, the company reorganized under the name of the New McLean Manufacturing Company, and with increased capital, has put up a very large and convenient new factory, the building costing about $15,000. New machinery, the latest and best to be found in the land, has been ordered, and some of it will soon arrive. It is expected that by March the new mill will be in active operation. When completed it will be one of the best in the land, and the company will push the enterprise as it has never been pushed before. It will be able to make more and better goods than ever, which is saying much, as the mill's reputation has already been strongly established. The mill when completed will cost about $50,000, and will be a model in every respect, and the enterprise being managed by those who have already shown their wisdom and energy, will surely reap greater rewards than ever.

THE DOTY MANUFACTURING COMPANY

suffered early in the season by the high water, which caused the work to be suspended, and necessitated the expenditure of $1,200 to $1,500 upon the head gates of the dam. The business, however, has with this exception, been active, and has extended over much territory. The company employs 28 men and its pay roll reaches $1,500 monthly. The works consume 200 tons of iron and steel, 60 tons of coal, 1,200 bushels of coke, and 75,000 feet of lumber. They have made 240 punching machines, 1,200 washing machines and wringers, 110 wind mills, 150 drills and cultivators. At the works have lately been made one of the largest machines ever cast this side of Pittsburg, it being a shear for the Pullman car shops, weighing seven and one-half tons, the balance wheel weighing a ton and the gear a ton.

THE WISCONSIN SHOE COMPANY

has had the most successful year in its history. A portion of the $13,000 surplus has been divided among stockholders, a dividend of twenty per cent. having been declared, half in cash, half in stock. It has been decided to increase the capital stock to $100,000, full paid stock, $25,000 of the extra amount being already secured, and there being a good prospect of getting the other $30,000 desired. If this capital can be secured it is intended to increase the production to 500 pairs per day, the factory having all the needed room and machinery for doing this, and thus securing a better profit even than has thus far been gained. During the year nine new machines for doing work, hitherto done by hand, have been added, and Mr. Blakely has invented, and put into use a very ingenious and valuable machine for polishing the bottom of heels. There has been paid out for labor this year about $35,000, and the product of the factory has reached about $170,000. Five salesmen are on the road, and meeting with good success. Last year the trade was confined to Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, and the northern part of Illinois. Now it extends all over Illinois, and also in northern Missouri, and into Indiana and Michigan. The quality and finishing of the goods is steadily being improved, and there is no reason why this enterprise cannot become one of the foremost in the country. It has already averaged during the past three years twelve per cent. dividend on the capital stock, and can be made more profitable in the future.

THE EMPIRE CROSS SPRING COMPANY is one of the manufacturing enterprises which has sprung up like magic, and is growing rapidly. The company have lately taken possession of the building formerly used as the Clow reaper works, and have secured needed power by running a large shaft from the Harris works. New machinery is being now put in place, and will soon be humming. The company has a blacksmith shop about forty feet square, with three forges, and various machinery including emery wheels and drills run by power. The main floor is about 25 by 125 feet, and besides the office there is room for all the wood working machinery, which includes a tenanting machine, a saw for fitting up the woodwork, a shaper for forming side bars, etc., a cut-off saw, rip saw, planer, bandsaw, lathe, etc.,—in fact everything needed for the machine work in making the bodies and gears. The upper floor, of the same size, is used for the bench work, fitting and finishing, and thus every convenience for speedy and thorough work is being facturing the Empire cross spring in Janesville in 1872, and last October its business had grown so that it was necessary to take this building to secure the needed room. In May of this year they commenced the manufacture also of the St Julian gear, a side bar gear, which has sprung at once into great demand, orders having been received for lots even from 100 to 200 in one order. The company is now furnishing gears to about 700 builders in Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, Illinois, and Indiana. Thirteen men are employed by this business, and as soon as the machinery is all set in motion, more will be needed. As an indication of the increase in business it may be stated that during the year ending October 1 1880 three times as many gears were sold as on the previous year, and from the first of last October until now, more were sold than in all of that year. The company also has a new platform wagon, which will carry 1200 pounds easily, has a reach, and the springs will weigh only 30 pounds. The company are also selling a patent fifth wheel, patented last March. It allows no draft on the king bolt, and no hole in the axle. In fact the company is pushing out successfully in several directions.

THE LAWRENCE & ATWOOD HOSIERY MILL

has had its work interfered with by the floods, which damaged the buildings and necessitated an expenditure, and leading to improvements, amounting in all to $1,500. On account of the break, there has been only eight months of active operation, but they have been successful months There have been manufactured 60,000 pairs of men's women's, and children's hosiery, and of a quality and finish which bear comparison with any made in the country. They have improved their make so that they take rank with the best in all respects, as any one inspecting these goods will concede. There has also been made 3,000 helmet caps, a farm protection indeed for those engaged in outdoor work. There has also been made 15,000 pounds of yarn. Employment has been given to sixty persons, including 7 men, and 53 women and girls, over 20 of whom have been employed in the mill, and the others have taken their work to their homes. The goods have been sent over Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, and Dakota. The future outlook is very encouraging.

HERMAN BUCHHOLZ.

has succeeded this year the well established firm of Hodge & Buchholz, death having removed his partner. The year, as far as business is concerned, has been very satisfactory. The factory has produced nearly $30,000 of as fine work as any in the State. About 18 hands have been given steady employment, and it is the intention to enlarge as fast as possible. Mr. Buchholz prides himself, and justly too, in the quality of the work done, and the carriages, buggies, sleighs, etc., of his make are certainly a credit to Janesville's skill and industry.

THE PHŒNIX PLANING MILL,

of which Shopbell & Norris are the proprietors, is among Janesville's most solid and prosperous manufactories. Its ninth year has been a prosperous one. Their business amounts to about $25,000. About 16 hands are kept employed. The firm have established a reputation for enterprise and straight dealing which is worth a fortune, and their trade is steadily increasing. During the year their mill suffered some damage from high water, but aside from making necessary repairs, they have put up on the race a convenient building for their stock and made some slighter improvements in other respects.

CLARK'S FEED MILL

was built last year at a cost of about $5,000. The year just past has been reasonably successful, and there have been shipped over 2,000 tons of feed, most of it going north. Some new machinery has been added, and no mill can now do better work than this.

THE JANESVILLE MOROCCO FACTORY was never in so good condition for pushing its business as now. A new factory has been built, the main part being 24 by 56 feet, four stories high, with an addition to the rear, 16 by 40 feet and two stories high. New vats and other appliances have been provided, a well sunk so that all the water needed can be had, and everything put in readiness with a capacity of 75 dozen skins per week. The work of building has interfered with the regular business this year, and yet 1,000 dozen skins have been tanned. It is expected that by next week the stock now ordered will arrive, and in the coming year the new factory will be made one of the most active industries of the city.

HARRIS & SMITH'S LAMP FACTORY

is among the younger manufacturing enterprises of Janesville, but one of its most successful. The past year has been financially more successful than any previous year in its history. The superiority of a lamp which does away with all possible danger in burning kerosene is so marked that this safety lamp cannot but meet with a ready sale, when its merits are properly presented. Naturally, a lamp having such advantages costs more to manufacture, and hence it is a little more difficult to get it upon the market. This year much has been done by having personal canvassers scattered all over the country. The season's sales will probably reach $25,000. These lamps find their way far and near, and strange as it may seem Janesville thus furnishes light not only to many parts of Europe, but even in Egypt and in Palestine. The enterprise is being wisely, actively, and successfully pushed.

FURNITURE MAKING

is one of the many enterprises which engages some of Janesville's capitol. The firm of M. Hanson & Co., have lost their senior member by death during the year, but aside from this sad event, the twelve months have been crowded with prosperity. The business has been somewhat increased over last year, and the trade has been pushed further to the north, a large amount of goods being sold in the mining regions. The Dakota trade is also much increased. The retail part of the business has been entirely done away with, and entire attention is now paid to the manufacturing of chamber sets, tables, bedsteads, bureaus, etc., and to selling such goods, of their own manufacture, at wholesale. In the matter of extension tables alone the factory has for fourteen months been behind its orders, which is one of the many facts showing the demand for Janesville furniture. During the year about 25 hands have been employed, and about $10,000 has been paid for labor. Between $6,000 and $7,000 worth of lumber alone has been used.

KENT'S SIRUP REFINERY

made about 9,000 gallons of sirup this season, which was about the same amount as was manufactured last year, but the business has been much more satisfactory, the quality being very superior. The Chicago and St. Louis markets took all they could get, at good prices, and called for more. A few changes have been made so that better sirup could be made than ever before, and the cane-growers who took due care in planting, cultivating and gathering their cane, were highly gratified with the result, and express the purpose of raising more next year. Mr. Kent expects to handle next year the product of 200 acres. His refinery has the capacity of handling 30 tons of cane every twenty-four hours, and that it is well handled is evidenced by the popularity of his sirup.

MAKING CORN PLANTERS.

The hand corn planter manufactured by Kent & Lawrence has reached a point of perfection, and it is steadily growing in demand. Their factory is now humming with activity, there being 15,000 of them manufactured for the season, an increase of 6,000 over last year. Of the 9,000 made last year every one was sold by March, and other orders could not be filled. These planters are meeting with a ready sale at a distance as well as nearer home, many going to Boston, New York and Baltimore, and others to Dakota and other Western points. The firm also manufacture fifty fanning mills at a time, and after selling, build another lot of fifty. Twelve men are kept employed, and now there are being made daily 300 corn planters.

BAILEY & RAY'S BATTING FACTORY

is an enterprise of no small magnitude or importance. The capacity of the works has been increased by the purchase of what was known as the Ford barn, which has been transformed into the twine and carpet warp department of the factory, there having been spent in improvements on the building about $1,000. About $1,500 additional machinery for making warp has been purchased, and about $1,000 additional machinery for the batting mill, thus making as complete a factory as is found anywhere. As an indication of how business is progressing here, it is worthy of note that now the factory is busy on an order of 100,000 pounds of cotton yarn for a hosiery factory at Portage. The factory is employing 20 hands, and its pay role is from $250 to $275 per month.

WOODRUFF'S CHAMPION BUCKLE

still keeps its hold upon the market, with a healthy increase of business, but with no special change during the year, the sales reaching to $50,000 or $60,000, enough buckles to supply nearly 250,000 horses. This invention has been a wonderful success, bordering upon the marvelous. At the factory here about seven hands are employed in finishing the buckles, and packing and shipping. It is expected that new buildings will be erected next year on the present site.

THE SINGLE CENTER SPRING

is gaining rapidly in popularity, and its manufacture here is one of the most rapidly increasing and prosperous of all Janesville's enterprises. The manufacture of these gears began in September, 1880, so that the past year is really the first of active work. Buggies are also manufactured by this company, but only on orders, as the making of gears takes almost the entire time. On visiting the works we found one of the neatest of buggies just being shipped to New Orleans, and the company's order book that this was nothing very strange to them, as there were orders from Kennebunk, Maine, to Portland, Oregon, and as far north as Manitoba. The company have made this year 1,650 gears. They also made 400 of Wills' automatic axle gauges, a new thing which is meeting with a wonderful sale. They also sold 100 car-pushers, another wonderful convenience. They have also made on orders, 50 completely finished buggies, provided with their single center springs. Twelve men are kept busy at work and two travelling men are kept on the road. During this month the orders have already outnumbered those of November, December, and January, a year ago. The company has taken possession of the building arranged for them by C. T. Wilcox, and has also taken a floor in the new building adjoining, so that they have two floors 22 by 130, one floor 22 by 100, and a blacksmith shop 30 by 30. In fact this manufactory seems to be fairly booming.

DUTTON & HUNTRESS,

the successors of Hanchett & Huntress, have been doing a very satisfactory business this year, in the manufacture and sale of the Huntress trace buckle and carrier. Some improvements have been made, and the buckle gives even better satisfaction than ever before, and the demand is steadily increasing. The firm are now getting out patterns for a full line of harness buckles of all styles, and intend to enlarge and increase their business still further past success warranting the increase Patterns are being made also for the manufacture of the new halter trimmings, by the use of which not a stitch need be taken in the making of the most durable halters. The enterprise is being wisely managed, the policy being to progress surely, and to build the enterprise up on a substantial and permanent basis.

THE CIGAR BOX FACTORY

of F. G. Stevens & Co., is an enterprise which has won increasing success, and is one of the largest and best of its kind in the west. During the year the number of employes has averaged over 30, many of them boys and girls, the pay roll being about $150 per week. The factory produces about 1,000 cigar boxes daily. The factory also prepares cigar box lumber to sell, having gone into this branch of the business the present year. The sales the past year have been $8,000 more than last year. Many improvements have been made. A new building, 24 by 60 feet, opposite the factory has been taken possession of this year, and besides this enlargement of room, considerable machinery has been added. The enterprise though having been started only a little over five years ago, has become firmly and successfully established and is steadily growing.

HENRY A. DOTY'S FEED MILL

is one of the most complete and convenient establishments of the kind in the whole country, as all will testify who have visited it. This mill was started in the fall of 1873, and was successfully conducted until December 20, 1880, when fire swept away the whole of it. Nothing daunted, Mr. Doty commenced rebuilding. The snow blockades of last winter delayed the work, the spring freshet carried away the flume, and other vexatious obstacles came, but in August last this model mill was set in active operation. A cylinder flume took the place of the old one, and a spacious, well built mill stood on the old site. Here two carloads of feed are being ground out daily, and by crowding three carloads can be ground. The improvements cost over $10,000. One great advantage which the farmers will duly appreciate is the convenience for weighing, unloading, loading, etc. Farmers need not bag their grain even, and by a neat contrivance their wagons of corn and grain can be unloaded without touching a shovel, or using any muscle, the end of the wagon being lowered so that the whole load is dumped out easily, and carried by an elevator into the mill. Farmers with light wagon boxes can thus do away with their grain bags, and can deliver their load without the loss of a kernel. The mill has a storage capacity of 20,000 bushels of grain. Since the new mill was started there never has been so much business done in the same length of time, and while the full market prices are always paid, farmers tell us they would prefer to take corn there at two cents a bushel less, on account of the ease of handling. The mill has a good-sized place for receiving the cobs, and these are sold for fuel, as high as 210 loads being sold in this city in a single month.

W. H. TALLMAN'S LABRATORY is a permanent and prosperous enterprise, which merits the great success which it has attained. Druggists' sundries, perfumeries, oils, toilet articles, are prepared in a great variety of forms. Mr. Tallman has been engaged in this business here for a score of years, and has established a wide reputation for excellent goods, and for the taste shown in putting them up in an attractive manner. So great a stress has been laid upon keeping the quality of the goods up to the highest standard that they almost sell themselves, the name being a sufficient guarantee of their worth. The year has been a successful one, and the trade had a healthy increase.

THE FLOURING MILLS

of Janesville have added to its reputation, the quality made here taking rank second to none. The industry has prospered as usual this year, though the production has fallen short somewhat of the 100,000 barrels reported last year. The names of Barnes & Hodson's mill, the City Mills, Ford's Mill, Farmers' mill Bower City mill, and Bonesteel's mills are familiar to all. During the year Nothohm Bros' mill has been burned, and is not yet rebuilt. As an item of interest in connection with the flouring business, it may be stated that O. C. Ford, B. F. Crossett, and James Clark have made 5,000 barrels of buckwheat flour since November 1. O. C. Ford has made 10,000 barrels of rye flour since August 1, and B. F. Crossett has made 7,000 barrels in the same time. Barnes & Hodson have one of the largest and best flour mills in this part of the State, and have established a valuable reputation. They have improved the mill yearly, and this year is no exception. Altogether Janesville has probably produced 75,000 barrels this year, which considering many interruptions is a fine showing.

BOUB & USSELL

have manufactured at their sirup refinery 5,000 gallons this season all of which was disposed off as fast as ready for the market, at the same price as the best New Orleans molasses. They expect a larger acreage of sugar-cane next year and have the product of 200 acres already pledged, and expect to handle 300 acres at least. They are planning to put in machinery for making sugar, believing it will prove a success.

THE PICKLING BUSINESS

this year has been successfully conducted by the Janesville Pickling and Vinegar company. There have been used this season 7,000 bushels of cucumbers, and enough cabbage to make 50 barrels of sauer kraut. Sales have been good. During the busy season four or five men are employed.

TAKE A SMOKE.

There have been manufactured in Janesville this year about 600,000 cigars, the makers being H. B. Dewey, Jones Bros., P. Lennartz, and J. M. McKeigue. About fourteen men are employed in this business. There is an excellent chance for capital to join with labor and start a large cigar factory here, as stock and supply factories are right at hand, as is in hardly any other place in the west.

TOTAL OF MANUFACTORIES.

It is estimated from the figures as gathered that there is yearly manufactured in Janesville nearly $2,000,000 of goods, which causes about $275,000 to be annually distributed for labor.

MISCELLANEOUS MATTERS.

THE GRAIN RECEIPTS.

Janesville is quite active as a grain market. The buyers who are associated at the Corn Exchange have purchased this year 900,000 bushels, to say nothing of the thousands of bushels bought by the mills, and used in other ways.

PRESSED HAY.

The hay press of Clark & Hield, will do twice the amount of business this winter that it did last winter. During the year 1881 between 2,000 and 2,500 tons of hay were pressed, about half of which has been sold and shipped to Chicago, and distributed to various points from there, and the balance going to the northern mining districts. Hay in this part of the State, is one of the best paying crops for farmers, as this year it has averaged $10 a ton. Much of the demand has been caused by this press, and the business is now firmly established and being successfully managed.

MONEY IN THE WEED.

The large amount of tobacco raised in Rock county and vicinity has caused a number of buyers to center here, and the handling of tobacco has become one of the leading industries, involving a large amount of capital. The acreage this year is a little less than in 1880. Then it was 6,237 acres. This year it is 533 acres less, but growers have learned by experience to aim for good quality rather than amount, and to plant only what they can care for well. Mr. De Long continues to occupy the large warehouse adjoining the Northwestern freight house. Oscar Rowe has moved here from Edgerton and built a large warehouse at a cost of about $1,700. C. B. Conrad has taken possession of the basements under his old grocery store, and under Randall's store, and has also a large warehouse in the rear, which he has enlarged by the expenditure of $500, and is now keeping about twenty-five hands employed. F. M. Hibbard & Co. have a dozen or more men employed in DeLong's former warehouse on River street. Mr. Pomeroy also has established a warehouse here. Mr. Wilcox, Mr. Wulff and others have been purchasing tobacco here also, but at the warehouses there is a large amount of table sorting done, which gives employment to about seventy-five persons for about three months. There have been handled here this season from 8,000 to 10,000 cases of tobacco in all.

LIGHTNING TALK.

The Janesville Telephone Exchange went into operation March, 1880, with 16 subscribers. It now has 58, and has 20 miles of wire running through the city, the majority of the lines being less than one-quarter of a mile in length, and the longest being to Dr. Thor Judd's residence, and to the Institution for the Blind. There come over the wires to the central office about 200 calls each day. Besides other advantages the telephonic wires have served well for sending in fire alarms, there having been but three fires during the year, the alarm for which was not sent by telephone.

The system of electric fire alarms, used by the fire companies before the telephonic wires were stretched is still in use, though changed and improved somewhat. The West side company still run their lines by a battery, and the East side company has place its lines in connection with the telephone exchange, thus doing away with the battery. It is so arranged that an alarm turned in at the telephone office sends an alarm at the house of each member as well as at the engine houses.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT

has done creditable work this year. The alarms have numbered 22. Last year there were only 14, the year previous 18, and the car before that 17. The following is the fire record:

January 10—5 p. m.—Alarm caused by shavings burning at J. J. R. Pease's residence. No damage.

December 25—1:30 p. m.—Bnob's brewery on River street. Bedding caught fire from a pipe. No damage.
December 31—11:30 a. m.—Alarm caused by lamp explosion, in Raymond's mill. Big scare. No damage.

During the year the East side engine house has been improved to the extent of $175. A new suction has been purchased for the East side engine at a cost of 53, and the engine overhauled and put in good condition, costing $50 to $75. Both the hose carts of the department have been rebuilt, making them as good as new, and costing $225. One thousand feet of new hose has been purchased at an expense of $350. The East side company has now a horse to draw its hose cart, and the other company would doubtless follow suit, if the city would so change the building that there would be the needed stable room. The West side engine has been sent away to have a new boiler and other improvements and a relief engine from Chicago is now serving in its place. The department is the same as last year in numbers, but is more efficient than ever in its history.

THE FUEL BUSINESS

this year has shown an increase in the amount of coal used and a decrease in the amount of wood, the latter being difficult to get. There were handled here this year about 9,000 tons of coal, and about 5,000 cords of wood.

UNCLE SAMUEL'S BUSINESS

at the postoffice has been increased this year. The boxes both lock and call, have nearly all been taken, to the number of about 1,600, and soon an enlargement will be needed. There were during the year 1,875 registered letters in transit; 700 registered letters sent out from this office, and 2,618 delivered here. The money orders paid amount to $70,473.51, and the orders issued $55,692.85. The fees, which go to the government from this source, amount to $669.10. Thirty mails arrive and depart daily. The sales of postage stamps, envelopes, cards, wrappers, etc., foot up, $13,594.20.

REAL ESTATE

has been subjected to the usual number of changes in ownerships. There have been this year in the county about 1,000 deeds put on record, the considerations named amounting to $1,000,000. The real estate market in both city and county has been in a healthy condition, and in the city there has been some stiffening up of prices. The scarcity of houses for rent is also a healthy sign.

THE WESTERN SCHOOL OF TELEGRAPHY, of which Valentine Brothers are the managers, is just entering upon its tenth year. It has grown steadily, and has not only done a good work for its students, but has caused the name and fame of the Bower City to be carried into every State of the Union. There are at present 150 students here, and this number has not varied much for six months past. They add some $800 to $1,000 per week to Janesville's business. During the year 277 have been graduated, and been furnished situations, about 175 of them have gone to Chicago to enter the employ of the Metropolitan City Telegraph company, and Western Union. The others have been sent to various railway offices. Since the institution started, some 1,500 young men have graduated.

AT THE FIRESIDES

of the city and county changes have been many during the year. Some have been sad, some merry. Each year brings many of both, and facts and figures are but poor indications of the importance attached to each event, by the circle immediately interested. There have been registered in the county this year 450 marriages, 163 births, and 56 deaths. These are by no means all, as many fail to comply with the law, requiring the registration of such facts.

There have been during the year 140 interments in Oak Hill cemetery, of whom 86 were adults and 54 infants. Of these, 31 were under one year of age; 11 between one and five years; 10 between five and ten years; 9 between ten and twenty; 13 between twenty and thirty; 8 between thirty and forty; 13 between forty and fifty; 11 between fifty and sixty; 13 between sixty and seventy; 14 between seventy and eighty; 5 between eighty and ninety; one 92 years old, and one 93½ years old. Of these 105 were from the city, 20 from the county, and 8 from other parts of the State; two from Ohio, one from Michigan, one from New York, one a stranger, residence unknown.

The association has received this year $2,525.71. It has paid out in the purchase of more land, $631.40; has spent $1,173.89 in improving the grounds. The cemetery is kept in excellent condition under the superintendence of Robert Scott, who has served most faithfully as its sexton for years.

Catarrh.

Clear head and voice, easy breathing, sweet breath, perfect smell, taste and hearing, no cough, no distress. These are conditions brought about in Catarrh by the use of Sanford's Radical Cure. One bottle Radical Cure, one box Catarrhal Solvent and one Improved Inhaler, in one package, for $1.

Death to rats and vermin, Parsons' Exterminator.

PERSONAL.

—Miss Nichols, of Spaulding, England, is in the city, the guest of Mrs. John Watson.

—Mrs. C. E. Moseley and Miss Julie Wilson go to Chicago Monday, to spend a few days, and attend the Patti concerts.

—Mrs. J. J. Vankirk and her daughter Mary, who have been visiting in the East, for several weeks, returned home yesterday.

—Charles E. Pierce who has been studying law in Bennett & Sale's office, was admitted to practice yesterday, after passing one of the best examinations on record here.

—Mr. Glass, the manager of the Janesville Machine company, is expected to move his family here from Chicago next week. His son met with an accident, injuring his feet, and his condition has delayed the removal of the family, so that they could not come this week as expected.

—Fred A. Quinn, who has been Webb & Hall's right hand man, expects to leave on Monday next to accept a lucrative and responsible position in the Elgin watch factory, where he has been employed before, and where his skill as a watch-maker is fully as well known as here. Fred is not only wonderfully skillful in business, but in society is a favorite, and scores of friends here wish him the biggest kind of success, though they are loth to have him leave. He merits success, and has all the qualties which will win it, surely.

Liquid Gold.

Dan'l Plank, of Brooklyn Tioga, Co. Pa., describes it thus: "I rode thirty miles for a bottle of THOMAS' ECLECTRIC OIL, which effected the wonderful cure of a crooked limb in six applications; it proved worth more than gold to me."
